

Senator Nelson In Tart Speech Calls Taft a Usurper

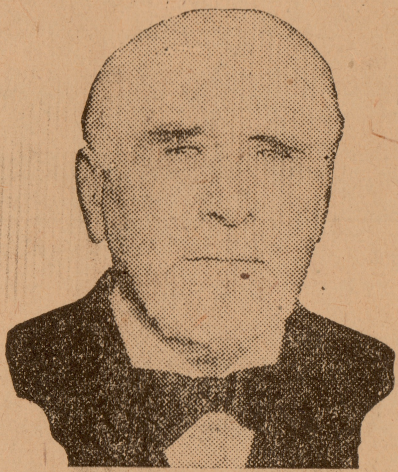

Washington, June 16.—Senator Nelson of Minnesota spoke at length in opposition to Canadian reciprocity.

He contended that the president had no authority to undertake negotiations with Canada and charged that the chief executive had usurped the treaty-making power of the senate. Disaster for the farmers of the country, he declared, would follow the passage of the bill.

Referring to the section of the constitution authorizing the president to make treaties only when two-thirds of the senate concur, Mr. Nelson said:

"In the case under consideration the president has, through the state department, made an agreement or treaty which he seeks to ratify, not by a two-thirds vote of the senate, but by a mere majority of the senate, supplemented by a mere majority of the house of representatives, or by a mere legislative act. And in this way he evades the treaty-making provision of the constitution."

"The conduct of the president in this case is not only novel and without precedent," he said, "but to me it seems to be of such serious moment and of such dangerous consequences that I have felt it my duty to bring it to the attention of the senate. It seems to me that the president is depriving the farmers of this country of their constitutional protection in a two-thirds vote of the senate. This agreement would not be ratified if it were submitted to us for ratification pursuant to the spirit of the constitution."

SENATOR TAFT

"It cheaper food is one of the excuses for the scheme why not make all food products from the farm to the mouth entirely free? Why should the farmers' cattle, sheep and hogs be on the free list, while Armour's and Swift's ham, bacon and other meat products be blessed with a protective duty? Why should our millers get Canadian wheat free and still have a protection of 50 cents a barrel on flour and 12½ cents a hundred pounds on shorts, bran and middlings against the Canadian mills?"

MORE BEDS ARE NECESSARY

With the attendance at G. A. R. state encampments ranging from 9,000 to 15,000, there are now 4,000 beds promised for the visitors, besides 500 cots which the city rented. With half of the minimum number thus provided for, it would seem that other hospitable doors in Ypsilanti will need to open, else the predominating emotion of the visitors next week will be one of forlorn homelessness. There are doubtless many people who are planning to entertain personal friends who chance to be G. A. R. or W. R. C. people. If these persons will kindly telephone Mr. Woodman or Mr. Garty, or anyone else engaged in looking after this matter, it will indicate somewhat how things are coming on.

YPSI STILL STANDS DESPITE PALMIST'S DIRE PREDICTION

Ypsilanti is yet standing today. And this in defiance of the dire predictions of a recent fortune-teller who visited this city, according to the statement of a certain woman. She alleges that this fortune-teller told her that on the evening of Wednesday, June 14, a storm would visit Ypsilanti and that after its passing not a building would remain in Ypsilanti, nor a man, woman nor child. If anyone in the city is suffering from apprehensions which any predictions from this fortune teller aroused, the fact that Ypsilanti is standing serene and unharmed this morning must be consoling.

Prominent G. A. R. Veteran Dead

A. D. Kiseley of 703 Pearl street died this afternoon about 2:30 after an illness of about four months. Mr. Kiseley was about 80 years old and was a prominent member of the G. A. R.

Excursion To Tashmoo Saturday

Cleary College will give an excursion to Tashmoo Park Saturday of this week, the 17th, the occasion being a baseball game between the college team and the Mount Clemens high school team which recently won from Detroit and Port Huron. They, too, will take a large excursion to the Park.

The citizens of Ypsilanti generally are invited to join the college in this excursion.

The fare for the round trip, by Michigan Central and Star Line steamer, is $1.10 for adults and 55 cents for children under twelve.

The train will leave Ypsilanti at 7:10 a. m. and, returning, arrive at 10:15 p. m.

Those who are interested may arrange for tickets by calling at or phoning the college.

All people indebted to Mr. Broudy will please call at 101 Bell St. It will be very much appreciated by the widow.

POMERENE HITS TWO BIG TRUSTS

Demands Prosecution of Tobacco and Oil Officials.

ADDRESS IN THE U. S. SENATE

Ohio Statesman Declares That the Ruling of the Supreme Court Must Be Followed Up by Prosecutions.

Washington, June 16.—Criminal prosecution of the officers of the Standard Oil company and the American Tobacco company was demanded by Senator Pomerene, who addressed the senate on his resolution calling on the attorney general to undertake such legal action.

The Ohio senator declared at the outset that the Sherman anti-trust law was specific in its authority to press such a suit against conspirators who restrain trade. He contended that the lawyers' doubts of the meaning of the statute were "in proportion to the size of the fees they receive from their clients," and that the interpretation of the law by the supreme court of the United States was clear.

"With these plain findings of fact and conclusions by the court that this statute has been violated," he said, "what reason can be given by any sworn court official for not continuing his fight against them to bring them to the bar of justice? What excuse can any lawmaker or any executive official give to the people of this country for a failure to enforce this law when they are every day exerting themselves to punish infractions of the law against other transgressors with less money and less influence at their command? A decent sense of self-respect requires the government either to enforce this law or repeal it."

Declaring that if criminal prosecutions had been undertaken when the law was first enforced there would have been no such concentration of power as exemplified by either of the two corporations under discussion, Mr. Pomerene said that the ruling of the supreme court must be followed up quickly in the most vigorous fashion, "or the fruits of those victories will be lost to the government and to the people."

"Speaking for myself," he said, "I think it is high time that the American people should understand whether the stars and stripes are to be the emblem of their power and authority, or whether that emblem shall be the oil barrel or the tobacco tag."

EIGHT THIEVES IN AUTO

Hold Up New York Hotel Clerk and Get $160.

Two of the Bandits Captured by the Police Before Auto Could Be Cranked and Started.

New York, June 16.—An automobile containing eight men pulled up in front of the Hotel Roy on West Thirty-fifth street at 1 o'clock in the morning and the men all lined up before Charles Simmons, the night clerk.

Each of them held a revolver and their leader ordered the clerk to stand back while he explored the cash drawer in the open safe. The clerk obeyed and the man quickly scooped out $160 in bills. Then the men filed out, the last one covering the clerk with his revolver until all were outside.

As soon as he was free the clerk grabbed his own gun from a drawer and fired five shots to call the police. He was so quick about it that he got a response from a Broadway patrol man before the robbers could crank their machine and get started.

The patrolman captured two of the men and found in the pockets of one a roll of bills twice the size of that which the hotel clerk had lost.

LAND CASE DECISION

El Paso, Tex., and Mexico Ordered to Split Up the Chamizal Tract.

El Paso, Tex., June 16.—The international arbitration court which has been sitting in the so-called Chamizal case in El Paso to decide the ownership of $7,000,000 worth of property in the southern part of El Paso rendered its decision, which is a compromise.

The decision gives Mexico part of the land in question and El Paso part of it. Both the United States and Mexico dissent.

GREAT UPHEAVAL IS LOOKED FOR Political Outlook in Central America Is Ominous.

THINK ESTRADA SEEKS TROUBLE

Former Nicaraguan President Now Speeding Toward New Orleans — Policarpo Bonilla of Honduras Now in Washington.

New Orleans, June 16.—Orders received here by United States secret service men and cable and wireless advices from several Central American points seem to color the belief that Central America is upon the eve of the greatest general upheaval it has known.

The orders to the secret service men were to redouble vigilance to prevent filibustering expeditions leaving this and other Gulf ports.

Meanwhile Juan J. Estrada, former president of Nicaragua and leader of one successful rebellion, is speeding to New Orleans aboard the steamer Heredia. Before leaving Guatemala City he held several long conferences with President Cabrera, then issued a formal denial of revolutionary plans or of any general Central American plot. It is further officially announced that he is enroute to Washington to confer with state department officials about the future of his country. Prominent Latin-Americans here assert that this is but a ruse and that Estrada's real purpose is to arrange for the shipment of arms and ammunition to supply his prospective army.

Dr. Policarpo Bonilla, former president of Honduras, and acknowledged friend of Zelaya the deposed leader of Nicaragua, has gone to Washington to oppose the Morgan loan. While there it is known that he will have other facts to lay before someone, just whom, however, is what is keeping Central Americans guessing.

The action of Honduras Consul Linard, at Mobile, in having a large quantity of arms and ammunition taken from the Haralid and stored in a Mobile warehouse was another development of the day that caused intense interest here, as it had been asserted that the arms were being shipped for the use of government troops.

General Lee Christmas is the man about whom centers the largest crop of rumors just now, although Christmas at present is doing nothing warlike.

With Castro in the offing, United States government employees have still another source of great concern. Castro's supposed agents here are busy holding secret conferences and an order for 3,000 rifles, the second big consignment recently purchased by a prominent hardware man, was placed in New York.

TEPEE DEDICATED WITH FITTING EXERCISES ON THE NORMAL CAMPUS THURSDAY

A large company gathered on the grounds of the Science building Thursday afternoon to witness the dedication of Pokagon's wigwam, which is hereafter to stand in its picturesqueness at the east of this building as a memorial of the advanced nature study class. Opportunity was given all to enter and see the decorations of hanging birds and after the ceremony a screen of wire netting was placed about the enclosure.

Dr. W. H. Sherzer presided in his felicitous manner and first introduced C. H. Engle, the friend and adviser of the Indians for 50 years. He said in part: "My first knowledge of this wigwam was at the world's fair, where I introduced both Chief Pokagon and the wigwam. Chief Pokagon was the son of Leo Pokagon, who lived in the northern part of Indiana. He sold the site of Chicago to the United States for three cents an acre

CHICAGO BUILDS AGAIN

Long Labor Tie-up on Construction Work Ended.

Earnest Police Crusade Against Sluggers Enables Most Toolers to Resume Work.

Chicago, June 16.—Chicago's building trade industry has begun to experience a return to normal conditions. With no murderous attacks on union men reported and with 25,000 of 40,000 former strikers back at work, the erection of loop skyscrapers and buildings in other parts of the city was resumed vigorously.

Many of the union workers had been kept away from the jobs for weeks by fear that "gunmen" and sluggers might take their lives. After the institution of the drastic crusade of the police against slugging crews, the workers began returning to their places of employment. The 15,000 men that remained out were in sympathy with the International Association of Steamfitters or the United Association of Plumbers.

It was the fight between these organizations that led to the tying up of the building industry for weeks and resulted in murders and assaults.

The new buildings which are nearing completion within the loop section of the city and on which work was hindered as the result of the strike are: New Insurance Exchange, Oth Estate, Helsen, Hamilton club, city hall, Heart, North American, Mandel, Karpen, McCormick Annex, Monroe, and Mallen buildings.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM FOR THE ALUMNI

A particularly interesting program of music and speeches by prominent alumni about the state has been arranged by the Normal Alumni association to be presented in Normal hall Monday evening. A short business meeting will be held just preceding the regular program.

Speeches will be given by Henry E. Straight, of Coldwater; President Jones; Supt. W. Sherman Lister, of Ionia; president of the association; Carleton H. Runciman, president of the graduating class; P. H. Kelly, a former student and member of the state board of education, and state Senator Putney, a former Ypsilantian. Music will be furnished by Director Frederick Alexander, of the Conservatory; Mrs. Eleanor Hazard Peacock, '02, of Detroit, soprano; Mrs. Carrie Haight Breining, '96, pianist; Miss Abba Owen, '92, violinist; Miss Alice M. Lowden '98, and Mrs. Belle Beardsley Stellwagen, '98, or Wayne; Mrs. Annis D. Gray, the Senior Singing club, and probably Dr. E. B. Spalding, baritone, of Detroit. A reception and refreshments will follow the business meeting.

PITTSFIELD WOMAN DEAD AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

The death of Mrs. Andrew Campbell, a well known resident of Pittsfield, occurred this morning at 10:30 after an illness of a few weeks. She leaves besides her husband, two daughters and three sons. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

and his son received the pay for it only a few years ago. Chief Pokagon was educated near South Bend, where he was a choir boy in the Catholic church. His education was finished in Ohio and then he came back to Michigan. Fifty-five years ago I got lost while hunting in the northern part of VanBuren county. I knocked at the door of a wigwam and a young man came to the door with a book in his hand. It was the New Testament in Greek. This was my introduction to Chief Pokagon. He understood both Greek and Latin. Afterwards I had the pleasure of taking Pokagon to Washington, where he met Lincoln and Grant and impressed upon them the fact that his tribe had not been paid the money for the ground on which Chicago stands. When this was done, Chief Pokagon received no more than the last child born in the tribe."

Dr. Sherzer, after mentioning that Chief Pokagon had been called the "Longfellow of the Redmen," announced that Miss Sanford would read a lullaby he had written, which had called for an extra edition of the Chicago Inter Ocean, in which it had appeared. It was indeed very musical and sweet.

Julia Pokagon's dedicatory address came next and was as follows:

"I am glad that I am here; indeed glad that you have granted a child of the forest an opportunity to address teachers and students of the grandest institution in Michigan; I am glad this college has honored my race by placing on these grounds the wigwam of my father."

"There is nothing more sacred to our people than 'wigwam'—it is as dear to our hearts as 'home' to the white race. It brings to us all kindred ties of father, mother, sisters, brothers, son and daughter. We too can sing with overflowing hearts, 'Wigwam, sweet wigwam, there is no place like wigwam.'"

"About one year since, I was honored by making the unveiling address of an Indian statue erected in memory of the unjust banishment of my people from the state of Indiana in 1838. As I there stood in presence of a great multitude gathered to atone as far as possible for the wrongs their fathers had dealt out to our people through the influence of bad men, my heart mourned; for well I knew the broad stretch about me, with its beautiful lakes and streams; just 70 years before was wrenched without cause from my ancestors, and as I stepped down from the platform to unveil the Indian statue, I realized it stood on the very spot where my people built a church in the wilderness after their conversion to Christianity, and that, at the last time they met there for worship, it was surrounded by an army of white soldiers, who barred the windows and the doors, demanding the worshippers to surrender as prisoners of war; they were then marched out between two lines of soldiers into the smoke of their burning wigwams, and the church where they had taught the lisping tongues of their children to repeat, 'Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name' was burned to the ground before their eyes; as I thought of that great wrong, my heart was sad and I wept."

"Not so on this occasion; for my heart is joyous as I contemplate the fact that the Pokagon band escaped banishment and fled to this state. They were kindly received with open arms. Michigan at that time was less than one year old, Indiana had passed her 21st birthday. She demanded of infant Michigan that we should be given up and exiled with the rest of the Pottawattamie tribe. All praise to young Michigan! She boldly declared to her sister state: 'Stand back! You shall not molest a single child of the forest within all our borders,' and within a few years thereafter every Indian in Michigan was granted the right of citizenship. So

ADMIRE PASTOR RUSSELL'S BOOK.

"The Divine Plan of the Ages."
Every One Should Read It.
Atlanta Constitution says—"This wonderful book makes no assertions that are not well sustained by the Scriptures. It is built up stone by stone, and upon every stone is the text, and it becomes a pyramid of God's love, and mercy, and wisdom. There is nothing in the Bible that the Author denies or doubts, but there are many texts that he throws a flood of light upon that seems to uncover their meaning."

It Comforts the Bereaved.
"Bill Arp" says—"It is impossible to read this book without loving the writer and pondering his wonderful solution of the great mysteries that have troubled us all our lives. There is hardly a family to be found that has not lost some loved one who died outside the church—outside the plan of salvation, and if Calvinism be true, outside of all hope and inside of eternal torment and despair."

KILPATRICK SEEKS TITLE.

Yale's Star Athlete Will Go After All Around Championship.

Yale will have a representative in the all round national championship this year. John R. Kilpatrick, the captain of the track team and star end of the football eleven, has decided to compete in this event at the championship meet, which will be held in Chicago July 29.

Kilpatrick is a great all round athlete. He has great ability with the J. R. KILPATRICK PUTTING THE SHOT. weights, is a good jumper and hurdler. He is also a fast sprinter and can run and walk a mile in fairly fast time.

Kilpatrick is a big, powerfully built fellow, weighing nearly 200 pounds, but despite his weight is as agile as a panther. He has begun systematic training for this event, and Johnny Mack, his trainer, believes he will be in good enough condition on the day of the meet to carry off stellar honors.

For Yale to win this important event Kilpatrick must be at his best and show form he has lacked in previous meets. Opposing him in that competition will be the greatest athletes in the country. Martin Sheridan, the record holder of this event, has signified his intention of competing. Others who are likely to compete in this event are Garrells, the Chicago champion; F. C. Thomson of Los Angeles, who won the event last year, and John Bredeus of Princeton, winner of the title in 1909.

CATCHER THOMAS BOASTS OF HIS LUCK.

"You can call me a lucky ball player," says Catcher Ira Thomson of the Athletics, "for I have been literally canned into two world's series. The New Yorkers sent me to Detroit in time to take part in the melon cutting with the Cubs, and then the Detroiters turned me over to the Athletics to take part in another struggle for post-season glory. I believe this is a record that no other player can boast of."

STANAGE AFTER RECORD.

Detroit Backstop Says He Will Catch In Every Game This Season.

Barring accident, Oscar Stanage, the Tigers' star backstop, proposes to break the record this year in the matter of games he intends to catch.

Stanage expects to be behind the bat in every game the Tigers play this year, barring accidents, of course. He feels that he can accomplish this feat with credit to himself, and as Jennings is none too long on catchers he is encouraging Stanage in his intentions. Stanage, by the way, has developed into a first class catcher. He works easily behind the bat, uses good judgment and makes his work easy.

BASEBALL CHIPS

Russell Ford's mystery ball breaks both ways.

Manager Chance pays "Three Fingers" Brown $50 every time he acts as rescuing angel.

A new baseball mask is on the market. The upright between the eyes is removed, so the receiver won't be cross eyed.

Fred Luderus is developing into one of the great sluggers of the National league. His bat has won any number of games for the Phillies.

Pitcher Ables, formerly of the New York Americans and now of the Oakland (Cal.) club, can hide a ball in his meat hooks. The batsman can't catch even a glimpse of the leather as it nestles in the big twirler's hamlike hands.

Edmund Lamy, who for four years was the undisputed champion of America on skates on the ice, has made good in his attempt at professional baseball with the Mansfield team of the Ohio and Pennsylvania league. Manager Hahn, formerly of the White Sox, believes he has a find in the Saranac Lake (N. Y.) player.

The Ypsilanti Daily Press is in receipt of letters from most of the officers in the Grand Army of the Republic, and from this collection the following excerpts are culled:

GEORGE RABB
Chairman of Executive Committee,
Council of Administration, Flint

Rev. William Putnam, Department Chaplain, writes that, inclusive of the W. R. C., the best information he can obtain is that from 50 to 75 delegates from Lansing plan to come to Ypsilanti next week. He has been chaplain of the 160th Regt. N. Y. Infantry, of the Department Washington and Alaska G. A. R., of the Charles T. Foster Post, Lansing, of the Department of Michigan G. A. R., and of the Michigan Commandery Loyal Legion. D. S. Kimball, Department Inspector, of Detroit, will be in town from the first day of the encampment.

L. H. Ives, Chief of Staff, living at Mason, will be here to lead the column in the big parade Thursday. He writes: "Have recently married a brand new wife, have a new lease of life and hope to keep in line and 'keep step' for years to come."

Henry Spaulding, who is on the credential committee and lives at Hartford, is looking forward to a good time here and thinks the "same old bunch,—five or six,—" will be here.

George I. Nash, whose position is that of Junior Vice Department Commander, and whose home is at Marcellus, thinks that from 25 to 30 will come on from his town. The accompanying picture was taken six months ago.

W. W. Root, Medical Director, is of the opinion that from 20 to 25 will come to the encampment from Mason. He was never off duty a day during the entire service and since the war has been mayor of his town three terms.

J. S. French, member of the Council of Administration, states that the Grand Rapids Post was represented last year by 80 in parade and thinks that this year there will be from 40 to 50 at least from the Post and Corps.

A. J. Ward, Senior Vice Department Commander, of Grand Haven, expects to be here for the occasion. There is only one besides himself however that has made a positive promise to come but there may be three or four.

M. D. Richardson, of the Council of

M. K. RICHARDSON
Member Council of Administration,
Lake City

Administration, who lives at Lake City, will be in Ypsilanti, but cannot state how many others will come.

E. K. Starkweather, Assistant Quarter-Master General of Northville, thinks that about thirty-five Northville people will be in Ypsilanti the second and third days.

George W. Stone, Adj. General, writes: "I certainly will be in your city at encampment. I never miss one. Lansing will send at least 100."

Cornelius O'Dwyer, Senior Aide, of Detroit, claims "the credit of doing the most while in Holland last year to bring the state encampment to Ypsilanti." He is inclined to think there will be quite a number attending the encampment.

Oscar Palmer, Judge Advocate, who is an attorney in Grayling, writes: "I expect to be present at encampment. There will probably not be over five or six comrades from this Post, as most of the 'boys are growing old.'"

Decorating Being Started For G. A. R. Encampment

STORE FRONTS AND HOUSES
WILL BE DECKED AS WELL
AS THE STREETS.

The decorators engaged for encampment week are on the ground and work is well under way for the encampment trimmings. Not only the streets along the line of parade will be decorated but homes all over the city are being solicited and all the city streets will be trimmed for the occasion.

The committee in charge of the decorations is anxious that orders for the individual work should be placed early in order that there may not be a delay on the final days. The same company engaged for the city work will take care of houses and stores if so desired, furnishing their own material and after the encampment is over will take the decorations down.

A large number of orders have already been filed for this work and many other residents have signified their intention of doing the work themselves. There is no difference so far as the decorating committee is concerned, how the work is accomplished so long as it is done in time for the three big days, but the committee is particularly anxious that a show of patriotism be manifested from every house and business place in the city and an effort toward that end is being made.

F. O. ELDRID WILL COMMENCE LAW
PRACTISE IN IONIA

Foss O. Eldred, who has been for three years past the principal of the high school department at the Michigan State Normal College, has resigned his position and leaves immediately after commencement to begin the practise of law in Ionia. Mr. Eldred studied three years at Albion College and in 1903 was graduated from the Normal College, where he took his A. B. and B. Ed. degrees. Two years of superintending the schools in Lyons, Michigan, followed and then Earl D. Ross, Ann Arbor, and June See, Syracuse, N. Y., assistant in the department of reading and oratory. After one year Mr. Eldred was placed at the head of the high school department of the college and the wisdom of the selection has been demonstrated by the steady increase and advancing efficiency of this department. Appreciation of his work has been attested in the offer of an attractive raise in the event of his remaining, but the counter attraction of law is too strong.

August 7, 1907, Mr. Eldred married Miss Ernane Olmsted, and both Mr. Eldred and his wife have taken a prominent part in the social life of the college. Mr. Eldred being a patron of the Kappa Phi Alpha.

While filling his position at the Normal, Mr. Eldred has been studying law. This study he has pursued at the University of Michigan and elsewhere and for the past two years has studied at the law offices of Hatch & Gillette. He recently took the bar examinations in Lansing, which he passed most creditably, and is now prepared to enter on his new profession in Ionia. The best hopes for success follow Mr. Eldred from his friends at the college and in the city.

Special Aid Meeting.
A special meeting of St. Luke's Parish Aid society will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church house. All members are urged to be present.

PAGEANT IS A BIG SUCCESS

The historical pageant, which the children of the Normal training school put on Thursday afternoon in the amphitheatre north of the property of President Jones and T. C. Owen, was a tremendously successful affair. The hillside was covered with hundreds of spectators; a part of which had come in carriages and automobiles. Again it was demonstrated that Ypsilanti has, accessible to her people, a wonderfully suitable place for the giving of out-of-door entertainments. The staging is quite remarkable. Not only is the stage of itself ample but the brook may be utilized, as it was yesterday, in many interesting ways, and the gentle slope beyond is a well-defined and convenient place for the actors to retire to.

This condensed manner of studying and presenting history was worked out by Miss Elta Loomis, physical director in the training school, with the critic teachers of the grades, each teacher having been assigned a theme for her to work out with her pupils. The resultant pageant was extremely interesting to behold and the sincere and vigorous work of the juvenile actors would indicate that they found the occasion great fun.

The scenes represented were: An Indian camp at Ypsilanti, fifth grade; Godfrey on the Pottawatomie Trail, this being a famous early trading post near the present Occidental block, fourth grade; Fourth of July celebration, 1824, by the 29 white people of Washtenaw county, third grade; the surveying of the Detroit-Chicago government road and the naming of the new village of Ypsilanti, 1825, seventh grade; the first school, 1826, at Woodruff's grove, second grade; social scene, a quilting bee and an old-fashioned music, a dancing party, sixth grade; the underground railway for fugitive slaves and the leaving of soldiers for the Civil War, ending in a dance symbolic of the reunited north and south, eighth grade; song, "America," by all.

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N. Y.—"Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backaches, and bearing down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. A. A. GILES, Route 44, Dewittville, N. Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

TEPEE DEDICATED

now we can proudly sing with you, 'Michigan, Our Michigan.'

"Yet I must confess that I am almost mortally offended over the widespread prejudice against our race. Many parents still continue to use us instead of the whip to frighten their children into obedience by telling them, 'Look out, or the Indians will get you.' White historians have recorded of us that we are treacherous, vindictive and cruel. The fact is that, when the white race pillaged and burned our villages, slaughtered men, women and children, they called it honorable warfare; but when he retaliated, they called it butchery and murder. Had our forefathers tamely submitted to the incoming race, without fighting for home and liberty, we would have been far more despised than now. Permit me to ask by all that is sacred and dear to mankind, Why should the white man be measured by one standard of morals and the redman by another? Please pause and consider. The only answer I can give is this: 'Mine and Thine,' the seed of all misery, predominates in the human heart, when they become civilized and rich.

"Again thanking you for this opportunity to address you, I must acknowledge my humble prayers shall ever be that all teachers who go forth imbued with those noble principles that cannot fail to impress upon the rising generations that we are all brothers and sisters under one shepherd, and that the Great Spirit is God of all."

A novel ceremony was then witnessed in the making of Miss Nettie L. Purdy a member of the Pottawatomie tribe and crowning her princess. The selection of Miss Purdy for this honor was because her father and Chief Pokagon had been friends, having belonged to the same bird club, and exchanged many letters. A crown surmounted with Indian symbols was placed on Miss Purdy's head and a diploma presented her, and in both the crowning and in the diploma she was designated as "The White Princess of the State of Michigan."

The new princess said in acknowledgment, "I know the sad history of your tribe and I will endeavor to be true to the trust you have imposed in me."

A short time later automobiles arrived and the company of Indians and Dr. Sherzer and invited guests, filling perhaps nine machines, were taken on an historic ride. Those who had been invited were President Jones, Prof. Cleary, the mayor and common council, Senator Newton and Representative Rankin, the advanced nature study class, and press representatives and a few others. Historic spots in Ypsilanti were visited and then the party drove to Saline, and all about that village, thence to Ann Arbor and home by the several roads.

The success and fine finish of this occasion are due mainly to the untiring efforts of Dr. Sherzer. A memorable chapter was added to Ypsilanti's history by the impressive ceremony of Thursday and the circumstances attending the dedication of this admirable example of Indian craft will not be forgotten by those so fortunate as to have participated in the occasion.

Julia Pokagon was accompanied by her husband, whose name is Quakomo, and work is well under way for the tired in native costume, his being rather the more elaborate. With her also came her daughter Katherine and little son Joseph, and very strongly did they resemble their mother, who in the costume of her people, with black hair hanging, was a very handsome woman, and especially animated by either humor or deep feeling.

MRS. JANETTE RUNDALL
HAUSNER.

Mrs. Janette Rundell Hausner, a well-known and well-respected resident of Pittsfield, Mich., died June 3, 1911, at her farm residence five miles southwest of Ypsilanti.

She was born in Pittsfield in 1851 where her active, helpful life was spent.

In 1876 she graduated from the Normal College and taught school until her marriage to B. J. Hausner in 1881. Mr. Hausner died four and a half years ago.

Early in life she united with the Presbyterian church of this city, but after her marriage united with the Methodist. Mr. Hausner's home church. When the Pittsfield Union Sunday school was organized in 1878 she was assistant superintendent, and a faithful teacher until 1910. She was a charter member of the Pittsfield Ladies' Aid society, which was organized in 1887, serving at different times as president, secretary and always an active member. A Christian in thought, feeling and deed her presence is greatly missed in these organizations, but the memory of her work lives.

Her health began to fail nearly two years ago and during June of 1910 her physician advised the council of the Mayo Surgeons of Rochester, Minn. This trip did not inspire any hope as the dread cancer of the stomach made an operation impractical. Love of living and hope were never crushed in the brave spirit. Her hospitality and a large circle of friends were influenced by her cheerfulness and patience. Always cheerful she enjoyed seeing her friends and her kindness has taught many a lesson. Within a few hours of her death she greeted loved ones with a smile, then drifted peacefully to the greater life.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. M. T. McCormack of Gaylord, Mich., a brother, D. S. Rundell, of Mayville, Mich., several nephews and two nieces. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at two o'clock from her late residence. The services were conducted by Rev. Leeson. Interment at Highland cemetery.

The anchor is cast by the evergreen shore;
They are living together in God's lovely world.
Our loved ones—our lost ones—they sorrow no more!
Our loved ones—our lost ones—who wait on the shore!"

AGENTS ARE PICKED UP BY POLICE AND ORDERED OUT OF CITY

Two smooth agents who were representing the Moore Brothers Publishing company of Jersey City, N. J., were arrested Wednesday afternoon by the Ypsilanti officers and arraigned before Justice Stadtmiller. No sentence was imposed but they were ordered out of town.

Their game according to reports is to present a magazine, "The American Home Journal," a magazine of 34 pages which they claim will be sent free by the subscriber's paying the postage which they say amounts to 35 cents.

Representatives of the same firm were in the city last August at which time they took orders for the same journal. A number of the subscribers never received any numbers and others when they did arrive had a journal of four pages instead of 34. A printed slip within the journal states the price of the subscription as being but 20 cents.
